

THOUSANDS JOIN GOVERNOR FOR MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES HERE

Memorial Day was again a day of remembrance, as thousands lined the route of the Memorial Day parade here Friday afternoon, from Carlisle St., around Lincoln Square and on Baltimore St. all the way to the National Cemetery.

The thousands more gathered among the graves of the fallen heroes, known and unknown, who died at Gettysburg, in the Spanish American War, in World War I and II or in the more recent fighting in Korea, for the memorial ceremonies, and to hear Pennsylvania's governor, John S. Fine, the 1952 Memorial Day speaker.

It was estimated by police and others that 10,000 persons lined the streets to witness one of the most colorful parades of recent years, and that more than 3,000 gathered in the cemetery for the ceremonies and the governor's address.

Ideal Weather

The weather was cool and the skies cloudy, with a threat of rain, but the latter held off, and conditions were ideal for both the crowds and the marchers.

The parade was well-organized, and went off without a hitch except for one incident at the gates of the National Cemetery. Crowds which had lined Baltimore St. in this vicinity surged through the gates after the automobile carrying the governor's party had passed, holding up the nearly 1,000 school children who were to strew flowers on the graves in one of the most beautiful and touching of all Memorial Day customs.

Governor Fine reviewed the parade from a car in front of the Hotel Gettysburg, and later in his address at the cemetery paid tribute to these school children and their tribute to the war dead.

New Uniforms For Bands

Capt. John W. Dearborn Jr., Biglerville, acted as the governor's aide in place of Lt. Donald Doersom, commanding officer of Howitzer Co., 104th Armored Cavalry, Gettysburg's National Guard unit. Lt. Doersom marched with his outfit in the parade.

Two of the bands in the parade were wearing new uniforms for the first time. Gettysburg's Blue and Gray Band and the Littlestown High School Band. Four bands and two drum and bugle corps lent color and music to the marching ranks of children, color guards, veterans' organizations, 4-H Clubs, soldiers, firing squads, Boy and Girl Scouts and mounted State Police.

Reds Continue To Block All Efforts To End War In Korea

MUNSAN, Korea (P)—Communist truce negotiators today accused the United Nations Command of provoking prisoner of war incidents to delay a Korean armistice and "to prepare the ground for an extension of the war."

The U. N. delegation replied that except for Communist stubbornness the exchange of prisoners could be under way now.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il made formal protests over POW riots Thursday and Friday which cost nine prisoners their lives. Then he added:

"These are obviously deliberate incidents designed to obstruct the outcome of the questions on prisoners of war and to delay armistice proceedings to create new fears and tensions and to prepare the ground for extension of the Korean war."

Calls Reds Stubborn

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr. told the Red general the two sides could be exchanging war captives right now "except for your stubborn refusal to acknowledge that the prisoners themselves have already made their voluntary decisions in the matter of repatriation."

There was no progress towards decisions on what to do about 100,000 captured Red soldiers and civilians who say they would rather "than return to Red rule. The Communists want the soldiers back regardless."

The U. N. says only 70,000 of 169,000 prisoners agreed to repatriation. Nam Il refused an Allied suggestion of an indefinite recess and another meeting was scheduled for 11 a.m. tomorrow (9 p.m. Saturday EST).

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckolls, official U. N. spokesman, told newsmen it is "obvious" the Communists

COOLEST MAY 30 SINCE '47

Gettysburg experienced its coolest May 30 in five years on Friday. The highest temperature recorded here yesterday was 67 degrees, equalling the cool maximum recorded here on the same date in 1947. SEN. M'PHERSON IS MEMORIAL SPEAKER AT N. O.

"Our country has always been a symbol of freedom and liberty in this world and so it will ever remain," State Senator Donald P. McPherson Jr., declared Friday evening at the annual Memorial Day exercises held at New Oxford.

"We welcome the opportunity and responsibility of carrying the torch of liberty held high for all the world to see. We must keep burning in the heart of each one of us that eternal love of liberty—that freedom of the individual—that knows no shackles," he continued.

"The challenge is with us today. Throughout our nation's history that challenge has been met with courage and self-sacrifice. In the same way that Washington, Lincoln and all who served them and their country met that challenge, so we must today. In this first half of the 20th century we have fought and won two world wars to defend the freedom of the individual. If it be necessary that another war must be fought and won, we must 'highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.'"

Parade Held

In his talk the local attorney sketched the history of Adams county's participation in all wars of the nation, and outlined the great industrial and agricultural position of Pennsylvania. "It is difficult for us to comprehend the blessings God has showered upon us," he said in recounting the "wealth and power" of the state.

George D. Sheely was master of ceremonies for the service and read Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

The cemetery program followed the annual Memorial Day parade through the streets of the community to the two cemeteries. Included in the parade were the New Oxford High School Band, the Broadbecks Band, the Adams County National Guard unit, school children, Sons of Union Veterans, the Klitke band from York, fire trucks, the Irishtown Fire Company marching unit, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and a flowered float honoring the Grand Army of the Republic.

Markle, police said, was traveling west on York St. The heavy traffic was held up by the traffic light at York and Stratton Sts., and Markle attempted to pass cars at York and Hanover Sts. and turn into Liberty St. He struck the two cars which were parked on Hanover St. when he was forced to swing to the left to avoid eastbound traffic, according to police.

Names of the owners of the parked cars were not reported by police. Damage to the truck was estimated at $25. Damage to the parked cars was placed at $175 and $150.

FRENCH POLICE LAUNCH RAIDS ON COMMUNISTS

PARIS (P)—Police launched widespread raids on Communist party headquarters and local offices throughout Paris today as the government tightened its crackdown on Reds.

Steel-helmeted police carrying submachine guns set out at dawn to make simultaneous raids in various parts of the city.

Authorities concentrated on the Reds' Central Headquarters. Thick smoke billowed from the chimneys of the party headquarters as members apparently burned documents while 400 police were massing before the door.

Fall At Strike

The search orders were issued by the examining magistrate who is handling the case of France's No. 1 Red, Jacques Duclos, now in prison on charges of plotting against the internal security of the state.

Duclos, secretary - general of France's Communist Party, and hundreds of other Reds were arrested in connection with Wednesday's bloody riots sparked by the arrival of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

The Communist-controlled General Labor Confederation (CGT) tried in vain to drum up a general strike in protest against Duclos' arrest.

Damage totaling $8,200 was done by fire of unknown origin Friday morning at 8:15 o'clock when the combination garage, chicken house and workshop on the property of Lloyd Reaver, 110 N. Queen St., Littlestown, and the contents were destroyed, and a garage next door, owned by Nicholas Redding, was damaged to the extent of $500.

Two autos in the Reaver garage were burned. A 1949 Chevrolet sedan, owned by Mrs. Mary O'Brien, 112 N. Queen St., and a 1950 Pontiac sedan, owned by Miss Evelyn K. Reaver, daughter of Mr. Reaver, were destroyed. Loss of the O'Brien car was estimated at $1,500 and the Reaver car at $1,800. Both were insured.

Mr. Reaver suffered minor burns to the head and face when he attempted to remove one of the cars. The blaze spread to the Redding garage where Mr. Redding succeeded in removing his auto.

ASPERS CHURCH IS WILLED $500

A $500 bequest to Christ Lutheran Church, Aspers, is contained in the will of the late Henry G. Baugher, of Aspers, as entered for probate at the office of the county register and recorder.

The will also provides for George L. Baugher Jr., a son, to have the home farm, packing house and other land and the use of the name "Adams County Nursery and Fruit Farms," under which Mr. Baugher carried on the nursery and fruit business for more than a half century. According to the will, in the event George Baugher does not desire to use the name it reverts to other children. The will forbids George Baugher to sell the warehouse and other appurtenances of the business.

Worth "Over $40,000"

Two other children, Eva Ripley and May M. Wright, are granted farms and land under the will. George Baugher is given use of the Donald Shriver farm purchased by the elder Mr. Baugher, if he wishes to pay $100 a year for 20 years to each of the other two children.

"Every Privilege Has Corresponding Responsibility" College Alumni Are Told By Dr. J. A. Krout Friday Night; Dr. Hanson Lauded By Church Official

A record crowd of more than 300, in spite of Memorial Day travel, attended the Alumni Council dinner of Gettysburg College Friday evening and heard Dr. George Harkins, assistant to Dr. Franklin C. Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church in America, praise Gettysburg College's retiring president, Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson.

"We are here primarily to pay tribute to one whom we have had as head of our school for 29 years."

"Our church and college have gone forward together. The United Lutheran Church was organized in 1918 and a member of one of our first Mission Boards was Dr. Hanson. He has been a member of that board or the Executive Board for 29 years. We are going to have him in the United Lutheran Church for many years. Those years will be marked by service and unshamed devotion."

Salute From Church

"In the past year which we have called Christian Higher Education Year at the ULCA, we attempted to raise $6,000,000 and over $7,000,000 has been subscribed."

"All of us assembled here," said Dr. Harkins, who graduated from Gettysburg College in 1937, "would like very much to pay tribute to him. After reading The Gettysburg Times today, I know it would be very difficult to add anything."

"We salute you, President Hanson," Dr. Harkins concluded, "and the United Lutheran Church takes off its hat to you. To you we all say, 'God Bless You Our Friend.'"

John A. Apple, class of 1919 and president of the Alumni Association, served as toastmaster and introduced the following guests: Dr. and Mrs. Stuart Smith, the former president of Marshall College, W. Va.; Henry M. Scharf, chairman of the Alumni Days committee who introduced the speaker; Dr. and Mrs. Harkins; Dr. William Nye, class of 1902, who pronounced the invocation; Dr. John Aberly, president emeritus of the Lutheran Theological Seminary here; Emerson Genzler, class of 1925 and bursar of Columbia University.

Mr. Apple stated prior to his introduction, "This large audience reaffirms my faith in Gettysburg. I believe and am hopeful that the new era, under the new administration of a new president, will be even greater than that of the last 29 years. This I know is the sentiment of Dr. Hanson."

The Alumni Interfraternity Council of Gettysburg College elected the following officers for the coming year at a meeting following the Alumni Council dinner: President, Arthur Hendley, Baltimore; vice president, Fred Dapp, Harrisburg; secretary-treasurer, Angelo Franco, Gettysburg (re-elected); executive council, Lisle Beers, Camden, N. "For every privilege you enjoy there is a corresponding responsibility. During the last 30 years, we've gotten into the easy habit of crying about our rights and are exceedingly reluctant to face our responsibilities. If we shirk our responsibilities, it leads us down the road to degradation and dishonor and causes us to lose our individual freedom," Dr. John A. Krout, dean of graduate faculties and associate provost, Columbia University, told a record crowd of more than 300 alumni of Gettysburg College at the annual Alumni Council dinner in Huber Hall Friday evening.

Dr. Krout, who spoke on his interpretation of the last 30 years, opened his talk by bringing greetings from Columbia University to Dr. Hanson and the group.

"Dr. Hanson came to Gettysburg College when Calvin Coolidge was beginning those amazing years in the White House—when Andrew Mellon was reducing taxes and the national debt at the same time—when radio was in its infancy—when Lindbergh had not made his famous flight—when the silver screen was quiet—when Douglas Fairbanks Sr. was roaming around Hollywood's Sherwood Forest—when they had not begun to use the word inflation as a national malady but to describe the plight of the Germans—when the Black Shirts in Italy under Mussolini brought a smile to those faces who knew Italy very well—when the author of Mein Kampf was completing his term in prison," Dr. Krout stated.

"Many would have us believe that the road ahead is new, and the past is completely obsolete. I place no trust in any such repudiation of our heritage. We shall build nothing in the future unless we do it under the spirit and the heritage of the Roman Way."

"It has given courage to the men and women through the years who have borne the burden that made this place what it is today. Center your thinking in the determination of how to perpetuate those ethics and traditions."

"You realize that one-quarter of your whole history here at Gettysburg has been in Dr. and Mrs. Hanson's administration."

"It is easy to think in the terms of the past, and it is hard to face the future with any confidence or understanding. When one speaks of Western Civilization, the term probably brings a wide variety of pictures. Since there is so much priceless heritage, it is difficult to pick out any one feature."

Dignity And Freedom

"The thing that separates the Western World from the Eastern World caught hold of the imagination of men centuries ago and won't let him escape—The dignity and freedom of the individual and his right to be a personality instead of a number," said Dr

SQUALLS MARK PRESIDENTIAL RACE HORIZON

By The Associated Press

The political weather today: Squalls in the Taft-Eisenhower region, especially South Dakota, with increasing excitement as the general election nears home and 22 more Republican convention delegates are chosen.

Three states—New Mexico, Virginia and Georgia—hold GOP meetings to name presidential-nominating delegates. New Mexico selects 14, Virginia four and Georgia four.

Ohio Sen. Robert Taft's backers seemed to have the upper hand at the Roanoke, Va., convention. The four at-large delegates to be named will round out Virginia's 23-vote slate.

The Georgia gathering at Atlanta will complete a 17-member pro-Eisenhower delegation. A rival group already has been named by Taft backers.

Storm Warnings Up
A Democratic primary in North Carolina nominates for Congress and governor, and Minnesota Democrats open a two-day convention which will complete that state's 26-vote group by selecting three at-large members.

Political storm warnings were hoisted yesterday after Eisenhower-For-President headquarters disclosed that every GOP convention delegate had been invited to call on the general. A headquarters spokesman said visitors could pay their own way or their expenses would be borne by local—but not national—Eisenhower organizations.

Before the Eisenhower committee denied the national unit would pay for the trips—there will be 1,206 GOP delegates—protests broke from two quarters.

Storm Of Criticism
David Ingalls, national Taft-For-President chairman, called the plan "pretty close to efforts at bribery." His statement asked whether former Gov. George Mickelson of South Dakota "paid his own expenses to Paris earlier this month."

Gael Sullivan, political manager for Democratic Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, said: "Gross bribery." He said the Justice Department should investigate to determine "the extent of violation of the corrupt practices act."

Wes Roberts, executive director of the Eisenhower headquarters, termed Ingalls' statement false and vicious. He said having local committees foot the cost of such visits is "in accordance with usual custom."

Mickelson said the national Eisenhower group paid his transportation.

CONVICTS GO ON WITH SITDOWN

TRENTON, N. J., (P)—Nine convicts carried on a sitdown strike today in the state prison in a little room without beds where they had spent the night in an effort to win more recreation, better food and a change in the arrangement of the visiting room.

They stroled to the mess hall for their meals and back to the little room yesterday and last night.

Warden William Carthy said they can keep this up if they wish but "they would be better off in their cells, where they have beds."

Second They Staged

The sitdown was the second staged by the nine men in two days. They form a committee representing the prison's 1,200 inmates and started the first sitdown, which lasted 22 hours, over a complaint on parole board decisions.

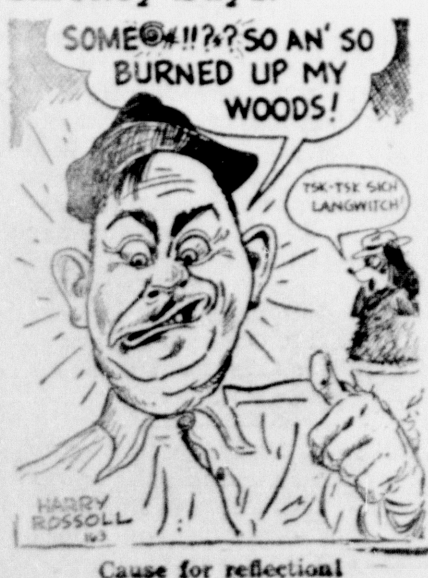

They claimed the 125 inmates serving indeterminate sentences, with a maximum of five years, but not set minimum, were getting a raw deal from the parole board. Parole board officials promised new rules to govern cases of prisoners with indeterminate sentences.

DUFFY LEWIS WAS EXCELLENT CLUTCH HITTER

NEW YORK (P)—Duffy Lewis was waiting at the press gate with a fistful of tickets. It was a good time to talk to the traveling secretary of the Boston Braves.

He's the same George Edward (Duffy) Lewis of the famed Speaker, Hooper and Lewis outfield that played for the Boston Red Sox from 1910 through 1915. His poorest year during that stretch was 1917. Duffy had a .302 season in 1917.

"Sure I look back to my day," said Duffy, now in his 22nd year with the Braves. "There's not much difference in the players. The game itself has changed. We used to play shallow but with today's lively ball the boys don't dare play in."

"Joe DiMaggio compares very favorably with Tris Speaker," Warren Spahn, Sal Maglie and Bob Feller would rank with the pitchers of my day. And a fellow like Roy Campanella would do all right."

Lewis, who has been in the majors in one capacity or another the past 42 years, naturally, got his start in the Pacific Coast League. He was born in San Francisco and went to St. Mary's College. One year in the coast league he made 209 hits but batted only .279.

Beat Johnson

Lewis was a good clutch hitter in his day. In a duel between Smokey Joe Wood and Walter Johnson, when Johnson went after his 16th straight victory, the only run of the game came on Speaker and Lewis hits.

In the 1915 World Series, facing Grover Alexander, Lewis drove home Harry Hooper with the deciding run.

Duff, who also played for the 1919-20 Yankees and the 1921 Senators, recently turned 64 but you would never know it. Being around ball parks is old hat to him but he claims it has kept him young.

His youthful smile and the manner in which he handles transportation for the Braves have made him one of the most popular secretaries in the majors.

MINNEAPOLIS (P)—A new device has been perfected to help protect packaged military equipment from rust and corrosion while in storage.

A small, highly-sensitive humidity indicator is sealed inside the packages. The indicator has an outside connection. The moisture content inside is determined by plugging in a small, portable electronic meter which activated a gauge.

Heretofore, a spokesman for the perfecting company (Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co.) said, such packages had to be opened periodically for measurement of moisture seepage.

BRIEF FACTS ABOUT PEONIES

With little or no fanfare the old-fashioned peony retains its firm hold on the sentiments of Americans and occupies its prominent place in most lawns and flower gardens. Yet, despite its widespread popularity, the peony still suffers from much maltreatment and mishandling, with spring and early summer abuse most common.

Peonies are planted or old clumps divided and replanted only in early September. This is the peony's true dormant season. Spring planting or dividing is impractical because many of the active feeder rootlets are injured at this season of the year.

Two forms of blight affect peonies in this part of the country—both encumbered with difficult names, Botrytis and Phytophthora blights. The same schedule of prevention and control serves for both troubles.

Botrytis blight is found wherever peonies grow. Stems, buds, and leaves are affected. The young stalks may be stricken when they are 4 to 8 inches high in the spring, wilting suddenly and falling over. If the disease appears later, buds may turn black and dry up. This stage is usually called bud blast. Occasionally older buds turn brown and fail to open. Infected flowers sometimes develop a rot. Large irregular spots in the leaves later become brown and dry.

Phytophthora blight is distinguished from Botrytis blight chiefly when the young stems turn dark brown or black and collapse. Black blighted areas appear on the leaves, having concentric markings to distinguish them from the irregular browning areas common to Botrytis blight.

Control is important. As soon as the new shoots are through the ground in the spring, spray them with Bordeaux mixture, coating the soil liberally around the clumps. Repeat the application a week to 10 days later.

Ants often visit peonies after the buds begin to form, attracted by the sweet secretion of certain aphids, commonly called honeydew. Growers who fail to observe the aphids may easily blame the weakening condition of the plants on the ants.

Two facts merit emphasis in this problem. First, ants do not directly attack plants. Next, if the aphids are promptly killed off, ants will leave and not return. The most effective remedy is to spray the aphids liberally with Black Leaf 40 in soapy water, repeating as often as necessary to win the battle.

Perhaps the most general mistake made with peonies occurs after the blooms fade. So long as the foliage remains green the roots (tubers) are storing strength for their next year's growth. Therefore, after blooms disappear, plants should be lightly cultivated, all weeds and grass kept removed, and water applied whenever the soil becomes dry. Not until the foliage dies back naturally later in the summer should the tops be cut off, removed and burned. If peonies are fed in early spring with 5-10-5 fertilizer and pulverized, decayed manure, they will thrive through the post-bloom period and thereby be ready to serve in all their flowering glory the next year. And by the way, well attended peonies are beautiful foliage plants during these weeks of final maturing after blooms are gone.

Write the editor this spring whenever any peony problems arise.

GROW SORGHUM FOR MOLASSES

Among numerous sound reasons why every farmer with suitable soils and adequate space should grow at least a small patch of sorghum cane for molasses, five are worthy of discussion at this time. They are:

1. It is an extremely easy and hardy crop to grow.
2. In urban grocery stores and at roadside stands sorghum molasses commands an amazing consumer market.

3. Moving to market after the bulk of fruits and vegetables are sold, farm-made molasses bring in welcome revenue until mid-winter and even later.
4. As an article of family diet, sorghum molasses is especially rich in iron and furnishes an excellent energy food at extremely low cost.

5. In times of war our national sugar supply is always deficient because we import most of the sugar we use. It is in bridging this gap that sorghum molasses serves almost indispensably.

Sorghum cane seed should not be planted until the soil is quite warm, preferably between May 15 and 25 in this latitude. Because it demands a well settled seed bed, sorghum cane soils should be plowed in early April and then the firm bed should have the surface worked into a fine pulverized stratum just before planting time.

Varieties of cane differ in maturing time, some reaching harvest stage in 70 days, others requiring 100 days to mature. Generally the smaller-stalked types mature in less time than the heavy sorts. The Amber is a light variety, the popular Orange is a heavy cane. In all cases culture ranges between two extremes. The soil must be warm before planting and cane must mature and be harvested before unseasonably early frosts arrive. Frost-bitten cane makes a low grade of molasses.

One of the "musts" of cane growing is to have the stalks bladed, topped, cut, and covered with leaves when the first frost comes. Better still is it to have molasses made before such dangers are due.

Seed should be covered from one to two inches deep, with the deeper covering in light sandy types of soil and the shallower in clay types of loam. Rate of seeding should be heavy so thinned plants later stand six to eight inches apart.

In caring for most farm tilled crops cultivation is practiced mainly to eradicate weeds and grass. Doubtful indeed is the theory that cultivation conserves soil moisture by maintaining a mulch of pulverized soil on the surface. But in cultivating sorghum cane there appears a measure of merit in addition to weed and grass control. Frequent light cultivations apparently increase the soil yield.

Every grower should experiment with varying strengths and rates of commercial fertilizers to determine which and what quantity are most stimulating for this crop in each particular type of soil. A 4-12-4 mixture may serve for a beginning, broadcast and worked into the top soil before planting time or applied in the row. Many experienced growers believe the quantity and quality of molasses are influenced by the kinds and rates of fertilizers used and also by fertility and general soil conditions.

The removed blades make excellent livestock roughage. The heavy seed heads are fine poultry and wild bird feed.

RADIO CLASSES ARE SET UP FOR COLLEGE CREDIT

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (P)—Relax at home in your easy chair, switch on the radio, and go to college.

That implies much less work than actually is involved. Yet it is basically they way more than 100 southern West Virginia people are earning college credits.

They are students in the "Radio Classroom," a going educational concern established by Morris Harvey College and Radio Station WCHS.

The project was started the second semester in 1950 with a single course—Comparative Government. Radio Classroom students registered at the college just as they would for an on-campus course. They received a course outline, reading assignments, and a schedule of reports due.

Panel Discussion on Radio
Then each Friday night at 10 o'clock the students tuned their radios to WCHS.

Morris Harvey faculty panel, usually of four members, discuss for 30 minutes the topic listed for the week in the course outline. Chairman of the lively give-and-take sessions was Harry W. Brawley. His is WCHS director of public affairs and a part-time associate professor of economics and political science at Morris Harvey.

The Comparative Government course covered 19 tape-recorded Friday night broadcasts. After each broadcast, students had textbook and outside reading to do and sometimes reports to write. Radio Classroom also required them to attend three on-campus meetings at Morris Harvey during the semester.

On-Campus Sessions
Set up to give further instruction and examinations, the on-campus meetings also developed into brisk question and answer periods.

Forty-nine persons completed the first course satisfactorily and received three hours of residence credit at Morris Harvey.

Radio Classroom has expanded this semester to two courses—Modern Problems of Government and Christianity and American Democracy. The government course has 39 persons enrolled for its broadcasts at 10 o'clock each Friday night. The religion course, which has 64 students, is broadcast at 1:30 Sunday afternoons.

When federal courts were considered during one of the government courses, Judge Ben Moore of the southern West Virginia U. S. district court was a guest. A local minister often joins the panel for broadcasts of the Christianity and American Democracy course.

Radio Classroom does not try to compete with on-campus study at Morris Harvey. As the president of the college, Dr. Leonard Riggelman, explained:

"We offer the courses as a public service to the people in this area who might otherwise find it inconvenient or impossible to attend classes."

Work Is "Rather Stiff"
Dr. Riggelman conceded that the radio courses purposely have been made "rather stiff."

"We were afraid that otherwise the program might degenerate into something that was essentially entertainment."

Teachers renewing certificates or working toward higher degrees made up the biggest group among those taking the first course for credit.

HODGES, MINOSO STARS AT BAT OVER HOLIDAY

By ORLO ROBERTSON
AP Sports Writer

The storm flags were flying today as the Brooklyn Dodgers headed west and the Chicago White Sox moved east with two of their 1951 hitting stars once again waging big bats.

True, two games do not make a season but Gil Hodges, Dodgers' first baseman, and Minnie Minoso, the White Sox great 1951 freshman outfielder, pounded the ball yesterday.

Hodges, who not so long ago was considered one of the leading candidates to break Babe Ruth's home run record, broke out of his dismal .198 batting slump to drive home eight runs as the Dodgers whipped the Boston Braves, 5-4 and 11-2. Minoso, idle since May 18 with torn ligaments in his right foot, played an important role in tightening the American League pennant scrap.

Giants, Phils Split
His three home runs led the Chicago Cubs to a double victory over the pace setting Cleveland Indians, 7-2 and 3-1.

Elsewhere the Giants lost ground by dividing a doubleheader with Philadelphia, dropping the opener, 3-0, and winning the second, 4-2. The Chicago Cubs whipped the Cincinnati Reds, 7-6, and 11-0, and Joe Garagiola pounded out a three-run ninth inning homer to give the lowly Pittsburgh Pirates a 4-3 win over St. Louis after the Cards had won the first encounter, 3-2.

In the American League the Boston Red Sox moved within a game of the Indians by capturing the nightcap, 5-3, after Eddie Yost's three-run ninth inning homer gave the Washington Senators a 5-2 win.

Yanks Lose Pair
The Yankees found troublesome foes in Little Bobby Schantz and Bob Hooper as the Philadelphia Athletics took two from the world champions, 2-1, in 14 innings and 4-2.

The Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Browns broke even. The Bengals won the second in 12 innings, 8-5, after the Browns had captured the opener, 3-2.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)
They played a lot of baseball in the Eastern League Memorial Day, but you couldn't prove it by the standings.

After yesterday's eight games, three of them extra-inning affairs, the lineup remained unchanged with Albany, two games in front, and Williamsport, 14½ games in the van.

It was no holiday for George Uzhaz, the Albany pitching wiz. The Hartford Chiefs belted two home runs to win the 10-inning opener, 2-1, and tag Uzhaz with his first loss in seven starts.

At Scranton, Stan Milankovich's six-hit pitching boosted Reading to a 4-3 win in the first. The second game went into the ninth inning before third baseman Pete Konar brought Scranton a 7-5 victory with a two-run homer.

In a night bill, Binghamton whipped the visiting Schenectady Blue Jays, 5-3. The Blue Jays, behind the eight-hit hurling of Tom Casagrande, outlasted the Trips, 3-1, in the 12-inning nightcap.

A Elmira, the Pioneers manhandled the Williamsport Tigers, 6-2 and 5-1.

Interstate

(By The Associated Press)
Pitchers of the Class B Interstate Baseball League are evidently warming up to their job with the approach of summer and warmer weather.

Of six Memorial Day games—one of four scheduled doubleheaders was rained out—four games were decided by one run and the others by two runs. In only the Sunbury-Harrisburg twin bill was more than a total of six runs registered by both sides in the two games.

Lancaster and Allentown split, the Red Roses of Lancaster taking the first, 2-0, and dropping the nightcap, 2-1. Sunbury came out even at Harrisburg, winning the opener, 8-6, and losing the second game, 9-8, in the bottom of the ninth inning.

At York the hometown White Roses swept two from the staggering Hagerstown Braves, 1-0 and 3-2, in ten innings.

The Wilmington Blue Rocks, rained out at Salisbury, thus added a full game to their league lead, now one and a half game over the Braves.

Moose Keglers In State Tournament

The Gettysburg Moose bowling team left today for Johnstown to participate in the 13th annual Pennsylvania State Bowling Association championships which started April 19. Prizes total over $25,500.

This evening at 7 o'clock the local team will roll its event. Included on the squad are Michael Tate, George O'Connor, Tony Clapper, Ralph Johnson and Harold Hummer. The doubles teams of Tate-Johnson, O'Connor-Hummer, and Joe McKenrick-Clapper will bowl Sunday at 6 p.m.

When it is first formed, the human embryo is less than a hundredth of an inch across.

YOUNG DRIVER WINS CLASSIC AND SETS MARK

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Troy Ruttman, at 22 the youngest driver in the race, won the famed 500-mile Indianapolis Motor Speedway auto race yesterday as hard luck knocked the prize out of Bill Vukovich's grasp.

Vukovich apparently had the race won in the 192nd lap when his steering shaft broke and his car brushed the northwest outer wall. That left Ruttman far ahead of his nearest opponent and he won easily in the record time of three hours, 43 minutes and 41.88 seconds for an average of 128.922 miles per hour.

Ruttman, of Lynwood, Calif., led a single lap, the 12th, and then the lead shifted between him and Vukovich when they made two pit stops apiece for tires and fuel. Vukovich went ahead the last time on the 148th lap. Ruttman was gaining about two seconds a lap on Vukovich but that wouldn't have been enough. Then the leader crashed. Vukovich, "The Mad Russian" to midge racing fans, cried unashamedly and groaned. "What a dirty, lousy, no-good break."

Wins $65,000
Ruttman and his car owner, J. C. Agajanian of San Pedro, Calif., will pick up a check for $65,000 tonight at the annual Speedway victory dinner.

The purse will depend upon the undisclosed attendance, which looked like the biggest ever—maybe 200,000.

Vukovich and car owner Howard Keck of Los Angeles may get $18,000 and $15,000 of that will represent Vukovich's earnings for leading 150 of the 200 laps.

Jim Rathmann of Chicago, only 23, finished second in a Granor Wynn's Special and his speed would have been a new record of 126.723 miles an hour if Ruttman hadn't been in front.

Veteran Sam Hanks of Glendale, Calif., was third and Duane Carter of Culver City, Calif., took fourth money.

LA STARZA WINS DECISION BOUT

NEW YORK (AP)—Roland La Starza, son of a Bronx butcher, wonders what he has to do to make good in his home town.

After flooring Danny Bucceroni five times last night in a televised fight at Madison Square Garden, La Starza still finds himself on the outside looking in. Avenging a December 21 loss to Danny Boy left La Starza right where he was.

A projected late June match with Irish Bob Murphy is out the window because Murphy prefers to mingle with the light heavies.

So La Starza doesn't get Murphy. He can't lure Rocky Marciano into a rematch, although The Rock won only a split decision over him in 1950.

La Starza bounced Bucceroni up and down like a rubber ball for a unanimous decision but couldn't keep him on the deck. It seemed every time he was down it was just about time for the bell to ring.

Danny Boy, who weighed 181½, at La Starza's 188½, went down for eight in the second, nine in the fourth, nine in the seventh, eight in the eighth and eight in the tenth. Each time right hand counter punches did the job.

RAINY WEATHER HOLDING DOWN TRAFFIC TOLL

By The Associated Press

Rainy weather in parts of Pennsylvania contributed towards holding down the toll of accidental deaths through the first day of the three day Memorial Day holiday weekend.

Six holiday deaths were reported between 6 p. m. Thursday night and early today.

The state toll was in line with the national figure which a National Safety Council spokesman termed "a little lower than expected."

6 Killed In State
Memorial Day began and ended rainy in the eastern part of the state although the afternoon turned sunny.

Five persons were killed over the state in traffic accidents while the sixth death was recorded in the drowned column.

Four of the six fatalities, including the drowning, were in Western Pennsylvania. One of the two deaths in Eastern Pennsylvania occurred in a head-on collision on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near the Valley Forge toll gate.

2 Die On Turnpike
Killed in another turnpike accident, near Bedford, was a soldier, as yet unidentified. Authorities were notifying his next of kin before releasing his name. His car overturned near the Bedford interchange, also injuring slightly an unidentified hitchhiker.

Mrs. Ann Billows, 27, of Haverford, died in the other turnpike mishap in which four persons were injured. State Police said she was returning from a trip to West Fairview, near Harrisburg, when she lost control of her car and it collided with one driven by M. C. Semmett, 51, of West Fairview. Semmett, his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Muldoon, also of West Fairview, were treated at a Norris-town hospital.

Lebanon police reported Charles McClellan, Lebanon, was struck and killed when he jumped in front of a car on a rural road "for a joke." Police said he probably believed the car would be able to swerve without hitting him.

Keefe read Lincoln's Gettysburg Address; Memorial Day address by Alexander Wiley, United States Senator from Wisconsin; benediction, the Rev. Ludwig C. The single ring ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Leigh Ribble before a gathering of friends and relatives that nearly filled the church.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

PATIENCE

Impatience is almost a universal trait among human beings. Especially of late years. We want to get to places in the quickest way. We take too little time in which to think things out. We damage our entire physical organism by this impatience, and breakdowns too early in life increasingly appear. What a medicine we have—at no cost to us—in good old fashioned patience!

That famous line—"Rome was not built in a day"—holds a world of wholesome philosophy. In the early days workers took time to do their work. They were proud of the things they created, and they made things to last. Our handmade furniture and our handwoven fabrics, rugs, and tapestries, are growing rarer every day. People don't have the patience to give to them.

In the days when people had little they made the most of the fact and were creative and patient. They didn't count the hours, but kept thinking of their completed task, determined to make it a worthy one. Lincoln put many of his political enemies in his cabinet and most of them thought they were able men than their Chief. It was Lincoln's great patience with each, however, that made them all work together as a team to preserve their heritage of an independent nation.

There is the tendency on the part of the youth of today to want to get a quick success no matter how, but there are few virtues so valuable as patience to anyone either starting out in life or entering upon an important assignment. It is the impatient car driver who endangers his own life and that of others.

Few things in nature are in a hurry. It takes time for the great tree to reach its richest stage. And what a long period it took for our oils, coal, and useful precious metals to be made ready for the use of mankind. The singer, artist, or performer on a musical instrument, has to have patience, if that one strives for any eminence. People who have a purpose in life don't mind being patient about waiting for their reward.

Just Folks

GOOD BOTHER

They bother us when they are well.
They worry us when ill.
And through the years, the truth to tell,
The children always will.
And even when they're older grown,
While here their mothers stay,
That mother long will fret alone
Who has a child away.

As babies, they need constant care
Which loving hearts bestow,
But less to fear and less to bear
May follow as they grow.
Some little troubles disappear,
With all they've learned to do,
But never comes another year
Without some worry new.

Yet joy is in the countless tasks
From start of day to close,
For everything that childhood asks
Love willingly bestows.
Though never ends the care they bring,
The mother's mighty sweet,
And home without such worrying
Would never be complete.

MARTYRS' DAY DEMONSTRATION SWEEPS JAPAN

TOKYO (AP)—Communist "Martyrs' Day" demonstration swept Japan Friday and Tokyo police killed three rioters in an acid-oil bomb throwing mob.

Three newspapermen were the only Americans reported injured in rioting that spread north to Hokkaido and south to Kyushu.

Twenty-five thousand police smashed 37 demonstrations participated in by an estimated 20,000 persons. They arrested 111 leaders. Police said 113 officers were hurt, but did not say how many demonstrators were injured.

Celebrate Uprising
The Central Committee of the Japanese Communist Party called the demonstrations to mark the anniversary of a May 30 Communist uprising two years ago.

Communist-inspired outbreaks at U. N. war prisoner camps on Seething Koje Island and on the Korean mainland Thursday and Friday left nine Red prisoners killed and 17 wounded.

Six of these deaths were on riotous Koje, where U. N. soldiers constructed new, smaller compounds they hope will end POW rule inside the enclosures.

Reporter Burned
In Japan three rioters were killed when about 200 Koreans, students and laborers attacked an outlying Tokyo police station with searing acid and flaming oil bombs.

Associated Press Correspondent William C. Barnard was hit and burned on the side of the neck by an acid bomb, while reporting a clash between police and an acid-throwing mob of 1,500.

National rural police said the riots centered in outlying sections of Tokyo and in Osaka.

VFW SELECTION GETS HIS FARM

MOSES LAKE, Wash. (AP)—An army of workers swarmed over a rough and dusty piece of land near here early Thursday to turn it into a going farm in less than 14 hours.

Their $75,000 farm-in-a-day symbolizes the coming of irrigation water to the first of a million acres of fertile sagebrush land in the Columbia River Basin.

With everything going on schedule Donald Dunn, his wife and two daughters received the keys to their new farm home, equipped with sprinkler irrigation, cows, chickens, barns and even a full icebox, at 4:30 p. m.

At the same time, Reclamation Commissioner Michael Straus presided over the ceremony of turning the irrigation water from a lateral of the huge Columbia Basin irrigation network onto Dunn's farm.

Dunn won't have to pay a penny for the farm. A war veteran, he was flooded out of his Marion, Kan., farm last summer and was chosen by the Veterans of Foreign Wars as the most worthy to receive the 110-acre farm.

Delay Action On Price Control Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Further Senate action on a bill to extend anti-inflation controls has been put off until Wednesday after overwhelming rejection of a proposal to junk wage-price curbs.

Off Friday for a long holiday week end, Senators will turn to consideration of other legislation next Monday and Tuesday and then tackle the controls measure again Wednesday under an agreement limiting debate.

The agreement is expected to bring about a final vote late Wednesday and send the bill to the House, where committee hearings on a companion measure have been completed.

NEW PITTSBURGH AIRPORT OPENS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An air traveler's dream comes true today when the Greater Pittsburgh Airport—second largest commercial field in the world, throws open its modernistic doors.

In this aviation showplace, you can find almost anything you would in a good-sized city—except houses. There's a hotel, bank Postoffice, scores of stores, night club, dance floor and restaurant among its conveniences.

The 33 million dollar airport boasts a seven-story, gleaming white terminal which requires a staff of 81 persons to operate. The 10 million dollar terminal houses some 2,500 people, counting airline personnel, store employees and the like.

The huge airport is second in size only to New York's Idlewild. It is 2½ times as big as LaGuardia Field in New York. The airport will be dedicated tomorrow as an opening feature of Pittsburgh's Welcome Week—an industrial and civic open house.

The new airport is located on 1,600 acres of hard-to-find level land in hilly Allegheny County Pittsburgh, 15 miles northwest of the downtown section. When the Lincoln Parkway is finished air travelers will reach the airport in 20 minutes.

BELIEVES WEST COULD BREAK RED BLOCKADE

NEW YORK (AP)—The man who broke the Soviet blockade of Berlin with the historic airlift of 1948-49 says the West can whip another one, if and when the Russians impose it.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former U. S. military governor of Germany, noted the Soviet Union is making menacing gestures in Germany but he does not believe they are ready to make war.

"It is always possible that they would push us more than we would take, but I doubt that," he told this reporter.

"Only if They're Ready"
"I think war will come only if the Soviets are ready for war. I doubt very much that they think they can win such a war now. If they had wanted a war and were prepared for it, we would have had it in 1947."

Clay left Germany in 1949 after directing the airlift which dealt the Soviet Union a mighty psychological blow.

The Russians today are making gestures which lead many to think another blockade is in the offing. Clay feels they are only using their regular tactics of terror and threat of war to balk Western defense moves.

Planes Bigger Now
If they should clamp on a full land blockade of Berlin, Clay said, an airlift could beat it again.

"An airlift today would be even simpler. Our transports today have double the capacity. The only consideration would be whether the Russians would use force against an airlift, which would be an overt act leading to war."

"As for Berlin, it is in better shape today to withstand the blockade than it was before."

Abilene Calm Over Coming "Ike" Visit

ABILENE, Kan. (AP)—For an event which most of the nation either will read about, listen to, or see, the homecoming of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower Wednesday is being taken with amazing calm in this central Kansas town.

There is little talk about the five-star general's presidential boom. To most of the folks, Ike is coming back to visit old friends in the peaceful town where he went to school, played, worked at the creamery and grew up like any American boy.

There is quiet pride in the fact that they will welcome home a local boy who made good, but there is no sign of excitement.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Mrs. Arthur P. Vincent of Slippery Rock was installed Wednesday as president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women Clubs.

Mrs. Vincent was elected automatically on Tuesday when she was nominated without opposition to succeed Mrs. Carrie Schaaf of Erie. Mrs. Schaaf officiated at the installation ceremonies during the closing session of the three-day meeting.

Two candidates for federation posts, who had been nominated from the floor, were defeated in the election by candidates selected by the nominations committee.

Mrs. Samuel J. McCartney of Narberth became the federation's first vice president, defeating Mrs. William Cressy of Espy. Mrs. Warren N. Edson of Scranton defeated Mrs. Warren P. Murphy of Hawley for vice president of the Northeast District.

Other candidates nominated without opposition were: Mrs. Clyde Holt, Beaver, second vice president-at-large; Mrs. Russell Clements, Ridley Park, secretary, and Mrs. J. K. Thornton, Lemont, treasurer, and these district vice presidents: Mrs. Edward Lodholz, Philadelphia, southeastern; Mrs. Mrs. Woodrow Mattern, McClure, north central; Mrs. A. L. Leibensperger, York, south central; Mrs. Edgar Johnson, Mt. Jewett, northwestern, and Mrs. A. J. Hoover, California, southwestern.

The delegates pledged themselves on Tuesday to fight inflation in every way in a resolution adopted unanimously on the floor. In other resolutions they urged enactment of the Hoover Commission recommendations for government reorganization; a commemorative stamp to the physically handicapped and efforts to solve the juvenile narcotics problem.

ACQUIT PAIR IN BANK CASE

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Federal Court jury acquitted two York County men of charges of misapplying $81,000 of funds of the York Haven State Bank Wednesday after hearing almost four weeks of testimony.

The verdict cleared James Stanley Wallace, the bank's former cashier, of charges of misapplication of the funds and Joseph R. Mauro, a Manchester used car dealer and depositor, of aiding and abetting Wallace.

The jury of seven women and five men was out nearly six hours before announcing its verdict. The government charged in the month-long trial that Wallace, aided by Mauro, engaged in an "intricate check kiting scheme" through checks drawn on a Creedmoor, N. C., bank by an automobile dealer there, now dead. Mauro deposited the checks to his account in the York Haven Bank, the government said.

Government attorneys defined "check kiting" as depositing a check in a bank and drawing funds upon it before the check cleared through its home bank.

U. S. Atty. Arthur A. McGuire said during the trial that the bank lost $81,000 through the transactions.

4 Lehigh Students Given Suspensions

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Four Lehigh University students, arrested during a party raid on the Moravian College for Women last Sunday, have been suspended from school.

Dr. Wray H. Congdon, dean of students, in announcing the suspension Wednesday, said the four will be permitted to take final examinations of the current semester. The suspension will last for one year.

Seven students were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct in the raid. Two were exonerated and a third placed on premanent probation.

Spent $10,000 In Tests At Lancaster

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force spent $10,000 to make sure a Lancaster, Pa., site was unsuitable for a proposed air depot—including $7,500 for drilling 375 holes.

Those figures were disclosed yesterday by Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa.).

Van Zandt said he obtained the information from the Air Force.

The Air Force decided as a result of the test drilling that underground conditions were not suitable for construction of a planned maintenance depot, now scheduled to be built at Hampton, N. J.

The House Armed Services Committee on Tuesday approved an Air Force request for $73,523,000 authorization for the Hampton project.

RED DELEGATION WALKS OUT ON HYDE PARK RITES

HYDE PARK, N. Y. (AP) — Six Communist delegates to the United Nations walked out on a Memorial Day service for Franklin D. Roosevelt when speaker W. Averell Harriman said the Soviets turned traitor to the cause of peace.

The six delegates — two each from Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia — are members of the U. N. Economic and Social Council. They were part of some 50 members of the Council invited to attend the annual grave site services.

Turned Traitor
When the six arrived Harriman, Mutual Security Administrator, was speaking:
"It has not been easy to keep bright the principles of Franklin Roosevelt since he died."

"In the international field, a former ally which we had helped save from destruction, in order that it might join in destroying Nazi tyranny, turned traitor to the cause of peace and international good faith, and promoted an even more terrible tyranny of its own."
"The foundations of a permanent peace which it endorsed at San Francisco began to break into pieces."

The six delegates strode from the hedge-enclosed rose garden where Mr. Roosevelt is buried. The six men refused to give their names or comment on their action. Others in the party claimed not to know their names.

Witnessing the walk-out were the president's widow and two of her sons, Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and John.

Commented Mrs. Roosevelt: "You'd know they'd have to do that."

WORLD UNREST BACKDROP FOR MEMORIAL DAY

By The Associated Press

The simmering unrest of Communists in Europe and Asia provided a grim backdrop for the solemn observance of America's Memorial Day.

This nation's war dead were honored throughout the United States and in Japan, England, France, Italy, Germany, Sweden and other foreign countries.

And for most Americans it meant a three-day holiday—with picnics and big sporting events. The long weekend brought a slowly mounting toll of accidental death, mostly from traffic and drowning.

Speeches, Ceremonies

There were speeches at some of the ceremonies but merely the laying of a wreath in others.

In Arlington National Cemetery at Washington, wreaths were laid for President Truman at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the Confederate Monument, the Spanish War Memorial and the Monument of the Civil War's Unknown Soldier.

In the Far East, fighting continued in Korea and Indochina and Martyr's Day Red riots rocked Japan.

Old Vet Leads Parade

In a Memorial Day statement, Gen. Mark Clark, supreme United Nations Commander in the Far East, said:

"We best honor our fallen comrades by our devotion to the great causes for which they died and for which we continue to battle."

Churchmen and officials joined Americans in Europe—mostly military personnel—in observing the day.

Civil War veteran James A. Hard, who will be 111 July 15, led the Memorial Day parade at Rochester, N. Y., declaring, "This might be the last time I'm out and I want to make the most of it."

END MOURNING FOR KING GEORGE

LONDON (AP)—The official mourning period for King George VI comes to a close this midnight and Britons prepared for as gay a summer as their austerity program will allow.

Women brought their brightest frocks out of the closet and men put away the dark neckties they have worn since their monarch died Feb. 6.

The crepe bands which thousands of citizens were wearing on their sleeves will disappear and the tempo of all activities in the British Commonwealth will quicken.

Change For Queen

The greatest change, undoubtedly, will be in the life of 26-year-old and Mrs. John C. Porry.

Glenn Dutter, a student at Millersville State Teachers College, is spending the summer vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dutter, and family, Kingsdale, near town.

A group of local fishermen went fishing on Indian River in Delaware on Memorial Day. The men caught approximately 450 perches and sea bass. The group included Paul M. Bowman, Samuel H. Higginbotham, William V. Sheeringer, Clarence J. Krichen Sr., Wilbur A. Bankert, James U. Bowers, Ralph A. White and Edward F. Hawk.

Mrs. Carrie Stultz and son, Richard, North Queen St., are spending the Memorial Day week end "isting with the former's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stultz, and family, York.

Queen Elizabeth II. Social life, ceremonial and official duty will expand greatly, and if she does half of what is expected of her she will be about the busiest woman in her realm.

Most humbler Britons have recovered from the mourning mood, but persons in the higher social brackets have adjusted their pace to that of the court. Many parties have been delayed.

As the period of mourning passes and the Queen takes up the burdens of her position many Britons are resolved that she should not work as hard as her father who, many believe, would have lived longer if he had taken more leisure.

CITES AREAS IN PA. ATTRACTIVE TO INDUSTRIES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Industries are "missing a good bet" by passing up Pennsylvania's non-metropolitan areas as sites for their new plants, says one of "America's 12 master salesmen."

"There is too great a tendency to concentrate new industries in the same general areas that supported the old," said Max Hess Jr., nationally known Allentown retail merchant. "As a result vast regions in Pennsylvania are being ignored."

Hess pointed out in particular the advantages of "the not heavily industrialized counties like Centre, Snyder, York, Beaver, Indiana and many others." "The one-industry type counties like Luzerne and Lackawanna."

Have Manpower Supply

"These and other areas not only have plenty of space available, but they also have an adequate supply of manpower there," the department store head explained.

Gov. John S. Fine Wednesday presented a citation to Hess at a luncheon in his honor attended by members of the governor's cabinet and business and industrial leaders.

A panel of 20 business experts, in naming the "12 master salesmen" included Hess as the only retail merchant and the only Pennsylvanian.

Urges Committee

Hess, in an address, urged the governor to establish a representative committee to guide industry in the geographical diversification of its new and expanding programs.

"True economic health lies in making the state healthy everywhere, not only in scattered areas," Hess said. "That's why every effort should be made to spread industrial growth and prosperity to every community in the state."

"Give a town two or three different kinds of businesses on which to rely, and you have given it the best kind of insurance against slumps," he said.

Hess added that diversification of industry also is important in the interest of national defense "in these days of threatening bombings."

VOTE TO KEEP RFC IN BUSINESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee voted 6-to-3 Thursday to keep the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) in business as the government's chief lending agency. But it decided to write a number of reforms in the law setting up the RFC.

Earlier this year the Senate had voted to abolish the scandal-stained agency, but it reconsidered and sent the question back to the banking committee for more study.

The Senate had substituted the end-RFC proposal for a reform bill sponsored by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.). The banking committee Thursday reinstated Fulbright's reform proposal and sent that measure to the Senate floor.

"Friends of the reform plan concede that prospects are none too bright that the reform measures will be brought to a Senate vote again. For one thing, they are wary of another attempt to substitute an abolition measure on the floor."

The worst admission any woman can make is to claim she drives as well as men do.

In The Long Run

Now that it is customary to keep cars a lot longer than in the days before World War 2 it is important to give them certain services which will help to keep it running efficiently. The attitude of foregoing trouble prevention on the theory that the next owner can carry the burden is now out the picture, but unfortunately the average owner doesn't realize what services are in this category. One that comes to mind is valve grinding. It isn't too well understood that a reasonably early valve job, say at 10,000 miles may pay off in the long run.

More attention should be paid to the car's rear end. Most cars with hypoid drive use the same grade of extreme pressure lubricant summer and winter, but it will certainly pay to replace the lube occasionally if only to keep the rear end gears, including the differential, clean. More attention should be paid to the shock absorbers to see that they have fluid. Same with the brakes. Just having them flushed and filled with new fluid means a lot to their efficiency when the miles start to pile up.

High Cost Of Neglect

While it is true that light engine oil can be used in an automatic transmission or a torque converter in an emergency it should be drained off and the unit refilled with the sort of lube the factory specifies just as soon as possible. Ordinary engine oil will become gummy and will eventually interfere with the operation of the unit. I recently saw one of these disassembled. What a mess it was!

Oddly enough the only thing wrong with the particular unit was that it needed two new gaskets. I suspect that leakage had developed and that the owner had been filling up with engine oil thinking this was the proper caper. Of course there are always the exceptions and this was one of them. I think it also proves how reliable these automatics are. When they first came into the picture there were all sorts of dire predictions.

Keep These In Mind

While castor oil is not recommended as a motor lubricant it often is used to keep pistons pre-installation lubrication after a motor overhaul. The pistons with their rings are dipped into castor oil which not only has greater film strength than ordinary oil but resistance to gasoline.

Many engine jobs are spoiled because no one thought to check the automatic choke. Raw gasoline from overchoking will wash oil from the new rings and perhaps cause scuffing.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Even though it has been on the car for a number of years the vacuum automatic spark control seems to be little understood. While it's a small unit it can develop a lot of trouble. One of the most common is clogging with small bits of carbon. This is likely to be the case of the engine backfires a lot which, in turn, may be due to a too lean mixture or failure of the automatic choke to operate normally. The diaphragm of the vacuum control may break, and so may the return spring. A sign of leakage at the diaphragm is an explosion in the distributor when the engine starts. Gasoline accumulates in the distributor from the tube into the carburetor."

Waste On The Downgrades

Smell of gasoline when the car is descending a hill invariably means that there is leakage of fuel around the gasket of the float chamber cover. The gasket may find itself unable to hold against pressure of fuel, if the needle valve fails to close off the flow from the pump. This unsealing of the needle valve results in waste of fuel and it may also upset the float's normal action.

On one of my earlier cars I found that if I did not drive so fast downhill the carburetor behaved itself. It was only when the engine was turning over fast (car in gear) that the fuel pump's pressure increased beyond the needle valve's capacity to hold.

Picked Up Enroute

Whether or not you like the idea of the shaded glass which is being offered this year by so many car makers as optional equipment at least you will concede that it saves sun-faded upholstery. Merely by making lateral cuts in tire treads anti-skid efficiency is greatly improved on some of the newest tire models.

Germany's Hallas Taifun car claims a speed of 125 mph with a 40 hp engine, using four exhaust pipes. Latest in tire service is cutting the tread to a perfect circle, balance no longer being viewed as assurance of smooth running at higher speeds.

For A Surer Start

One of the latest devices eases the job of starting engines when ignition is wet by the simple process of boosting high tension current. It can be used temporarily or wired permanently into the ignition system. Best feature of the device, to my way of thinking, is the fact that it cuts out the instant the engine starts. Thus it cannot damage the spark plug points through excessive voltage, nor the distributor. Wiring is through the starter motor circuit.

The Motor Primer

It has been said, jokingly, that an engine's water jackets are not its bathing suit. Actually, however, they do serve to furnish a form of protection for the steaming cylinders. Air cooling has never fared too well for engine cylinders, even though it is the air to which engine heat must finally find its way. Around the cylinders are enclosures known as jackets and in these we put the fluid coolant. This may be water, anti-freeze or in the case of ethylene glycol all anti-freeze. Heat passes through the cylinders and is picked up by the moving coolant. Some of it, of course, passes immediately through the coolant, is conducted through the jacket and is transferred directly to the air passing over and around the engine. Jackets tend to fill with rust, heat transfer. They may also leak, especially around those plugs which are inserted after the blocks have been cast. These plugs are not primarily designed as expansion outlets in event of extreme over-heating or freezing but they sometimes do serve this purpose. Also they help to provide a means of manually cleaning the block at the bottom where most of the scale collects.

Moisture Not Only Clue

It may be helpful to know that you don't need moisture to indicate leakage around radiator joints or the engine water jackets. Just appearance of rusty or grayish white stains is sufficient evidence. In other words, the cooling system may be leaking when you're not looking.

What's Your Trouble?

Q. Judging by the condition of the spark plugs oil is getting into the cylinders of my engine. I wonder why. The spark plugs are not loose, and gaskets are new. H. K. M.

A. I suspect that the valve guides may be worn.

Q. The engine of my car has a marked habit of bucking until well warmed up. There is no trouble with the valves sticking. Have had a compression test. Things fairly normal. L. H. B.

A. I suggest that you check over the spark plug gaps which may be too wide.

Q. What is used for sealing the top of a car battery? Can this be made up and applied over a crack? Wm. L.

A. This is a combination of gum asphaltum, paraffin wax and resin, melted together. Use 50 percent of the gum, 25 percent of the paraffin and 25 percent resin. A lot of trouble. I would rather check with a battery man.

Q. On my previous car there always was squealing of the rear tires when I stopped suddenly. Now with my new car I do not get this at all. Is there any simple explanation? W. W. R.

A. Apparently there was more braking force on the front brakes of your former car. The effect of this was to cause more of a front-end dip which temporarily lightened the rear end and allowed the rear wheels to lock.

PRISONERS KILLED IN KOJE CAMP IN 2 DAYS

By JIM BECKER

KOJE ISLAND, Korea (AP)—Eight Red prisoners were killed and 17 wounded in bloody incidents at United Nations Prisoner of War camps on riot-torn Kojé Island and on the Korean mainland Thursday and Friday.

Prison camp authorities said no U. N. personnel were killed or wounded.

The killings raised the toll of reported deaths from violence to 245 prisoners. The Army said 115 of these died at the hands of fellow prisoners after drumhead trials in compounds dominated by hard-core Communist POWs.

Attacked Guards

Four North Korean prisoners were killed and three wounded Friday when a 15-man POW work party attacked two U. S. and two South Korean guards on Kojé.

Three Korean civilian internees were killed and 13 were injured yesterday in a brawl among captured personnel moved recently from Kojé Island's massive prison camp to a new compound at Yongchon, 60 miles north of Pusan, temporary South Korean capital. One North Korean prisoner was killed and another wounded Thursday.

day on Kojé by bullets from a U. S. soldier's automatic rifle, fired accidentally.

POW Headquarters Wrecked

The accidental shooting took place two hours after about 100 U. S. and British troops raided compound 66—holding 2,700 North Korean officers and 650 enlisted Red orderlies—and destroyed their headquarters and dispensary.

The U. N. guard troops went in with fixed bayonets and fired no shots. There were no casualties. Kojé authorities said the four North Koreans killed Thursday died after one member of their work party attacked a U. N. guard during a rest period.

Maj. Gen. A. J. H. Cassels, commander of the First Commonwealth Division, Friday visited British and Canadian troops on Kojé and reported they "seemed to appreciate" their assignment.

Central Scranton Damaged By Blaze

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—An early morning fire roared through six buildings in the heart of Scranton's main business section Thursday, destroying three stores and causing extensive damage to at least four more.

All 18 fire companies in the city were called out by a city wide general alarm. Nine more companies from suburban communities helped fight the flames until the fire was controlled some five hours after being discovered shortly after midnight.

Unofficial estimates reported the damage to be near one million dollars. A fire company first aid officer said 15 firemen had been taken to hospitals for treatment of smoke inhalation and other minor injuries. About 30 guests were evacuated safely from the Hotel Plaza which was gutted. Others were taken from the Ritz Hotel in an adjoining building.

It is believed that the Egyptians first began to work metals some time before 4,000 B.C.

JUSTICE DEPT. CHECKS MORRIS SHIP "DEALS"

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate committee reported Thursday the Justice Department is looking into "possible criminal violations . . . as well as conspiracy to defraud the government" in ship deals of companies involving Newbold Morris, ousted government cleanup man, and Joseph E. Casey.

Casey, a Washington lawyer, is a former Democratic congressman from Massachusetts. A number of other big names were involved.

Charging that its own inquiries into the deals had exposed profit grabbing, tax avoidance and a web of international schemes to place U. S. ships illegally in alien hands, the Senate Investigations Subcommittee demanded:

1. That the government seize—and declare forfeit the tens of millions paid for—eight oil tankers sold to Casey and his associates, and 39 vessels sold to others under similar circumstances.

2. That the Internal Revenue Bureau and Justice Department "take appropriate action" to collect huge sums in taxes the subcommittee alleged were illegally avoided in the deals. In the case of the Casey group, it said, the recovery might be between $850,000 and $1,400,000.

3. That Congress close what the subcommittee termed a tax law loophole benefiting the China International Foundation, Inc., which Morris heads. It termed China International a charitable foundation formed ostensibly to benefit Chinese Nationalists.

4. That the Justice Department look into what the subcommittee called evidence that the old Maritime Commission, which sold the ships, was guilty of confusion and mismanagement. It said this was "bound to create the impression that the 'back door' approach was the best approach" to the commission.

Sharp Report
Chairman Hoey (D-NC), in a speech prepared for Senate delivery, said it was a unanimous report of his subcommittee.

The report spoke sharply of the fact that two ships owned by China International hauled oil to Red China until shortly before the Korean War.

It charged specifically that Casey personally made false statements to the Maritime Commission, and accused Morris of misrepresentation in public denials that he had profited personally from the ship deals. It said Morris now admits his law firm received $158,000 in fees from companies which bought the vessels, and that he got $30,000 of the money.

PREXY STICKS TO EXPULSION RULE

GROVE CITY, Pa. (AP)—Grove City College campus was saddened and quiet today after expulsion of 20 male students, 10 of them seniors, on charges of drinking beer at a night baseball game in Cleveland.

The students left the college Wednesday after they and their parents held a final futile conference with Dr. Weir C. Ketter, president of the school.

Dr. Ketter refused to change the expulsion order, issued by Dean of Men Robert Thorn.

The ousted students were all members of the Pan-Sophic Fraternity. Their names were not revealed. Six were from York, five from Pittsburgh, three from Grove City and the rest from scattered points.

SAYS EINSTEIN MIGHT GET IDEAS AROUND CAPITAL

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Einstein might get a few ideas if he hung around Washington.

Watching Congress do its arithmetic is one of the strange sights. Looks like magic, almost. On the foreign aid bill, for instance.

It would be tough to visualize what it would buy or do if you were voting to cut that much money from a bill, or add it.

Juggle Millions
Not for Congress. These days a million dollars is just a piddling sum anyway. Congress just whacks it or adds it. No trouble.

It might seem far tougher to juggle 200 million or even one billion, particularly in foreign aid when the money might be used for everything from guns to butter.

Apparently this doesn't give Congress too much trouble, either, judging from the way it handled the foreign aid bill.

Lopped Off Billion
President Truman and all his top brass in Washington recommended $7,900,000,000 in foreign aid.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee lopped one billion off that.

Then the House, when it came time to vote, sliced off some more, approving $6,163,000,000.

Only a handful of people on the floor could have had anything approaching a precise notion of just what they were cutting off in aid.

That much cut was proposed and the rest, in cutting mood, voted for it.

Always A Mystery
Then it came the Senate's turn. Just like tick, tack, toe, proposals were made to lop off one bill, 500 million, and 400 million from the approximately $6,900,000,000 recommended by the Senate's own committee, which had gone into the whole problem.

And just like tick, tack, tick all three proposals were voted down. Then Sen. Long, Louisiana Democrat, arose with a suggestion to knock off 200 million. Bingo. The Senate approved that much cut.

It will always be a mystery, of course, how the majority of senators decided it was wrong to cut by one billion, 500 million or 400 million but thought 200 million was just right.

SAY ANA PAUKER WAS "PURGED" IN ROMANIA

VIENNA (AP)—Ana Pauker, friend of Stalin and possibly the most powerful woman in the Communist world, was reported here today to have been purged from her position as Romania's foreign minister.

The mannish-looking 59-year-old woman, life-long Communist and daughter of a Jewish kosher butcher, was reported also to have been relieved of her positions as deputy prime minister and as No. 2 Communist on the Romanian Politburo.

These reports were carried by Vienna newspapers. The newspapers said the Bucharest radio and the Romanian news agency, Agerpress, had carried a new Politburo list, on which Ana Pauker's name failed to appear.

Two Others Removed
Associated Press monitors in Vienna did not hear the announcement but it was possible they missed the broadcast which reportedly carried it. Neither was the reported announcement carried by Tass or the Prague or Budapest radio stations.

Two other top Communists were removed from their government posts in Romania Wednesday. They were the former finance minister, Vasile Luca—a close friend and collaborator of Ana Pauker—and the nation's interior minister, Teohari Georgescu.

They were purged for "right-wing opportunistic thoughts." Apparently, they did not go along with Russia's iron control over Romania's political and economic life.

"Ike" To Shed His Uniform On Tuesday

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower disclosed Friday he will shed his uniform next Tuesday but still will refuse to campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Eisenhower turned over his post as supreme commander of Allied powers in Europe today to Gen.

was to read a message from Belle Boyd Michael of New York, only surviving child of the woman who escaped her federal captors and fled to England in the dying days of the war between the states, to return later as a patriotic lecturer.

Pa. Knights Templar Officials Selected

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Alan C. Williams of Weatherly, Carbon County, is the new grand commander of the Knights Templar of Pennsylvania.

Williams was elected to the post at the close of the group's four-day 99th annual convolve Wednesday. William E. Montgomery, Chambersburg, was named deputy grand commander.

Others elected included: The Rev. Thomas B. Smythe, Birdsboro, grand prelate; Raymond F. Hoffman, treasurer, and John W. Laird, recorder.

Appointments included that of Arthur I. Bayless, Susquehanna, as standard bearer; Eugene A. Black, Sharon, sword bearer; John S. Bachhofer, Perryopolis, grand warden; Karl J. Keithan, Sunbury, captain of the guard; John A. Wagner, Hazleton, grand marshal, and Charles T. Paddis, Phoenixville, grand herald.

Matthew B. Ridgway, Eisenhower returns to the United States tomorrow.

The general, a leading contender for the GOP nomination, implied in his last news conference before leaving Europe that he would welcome "healthy arguments over honest differences" but added that "bitter quarrels for quarrels' sake are bad for the country and I deplore them."

ASSUME REDS ARE WORKING IN GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ex-Communists Whitaker Chambers and Elizabeth Bentley told Senate investigators Thursday it must be assumed that Communists agents are at work in the government trying to pry out secrets.

Both said they had no personal knowledge of Red spies on the federal payroll, but Chambers commented it would be childish to assume there are none.

Miss Bentley, who says she worked with two espionage rings here during World War II, testified her contacts informed her that two other groups were operating inside the government. She said they have not yet been exposed and "obviously are still operating."

Frequent Witness
She could shed no light, however, on who they might be or in what departments they might be working.

However, she remarked that the Communists were not interested in lowly clerks or typists who do not have access to official secrets.

Chambers and Miss Bentley were before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee. Each has been a frequent witness for the last several years at congressional inquiries into alleged subversive activities.

It was accusations by Chambers which led to the jailing of Alger Hiss.

The Faculty Committee on Student Conduct announced Thursday the suspensions would take effect Thursday, last day of classes.

Emmitsburg PLAYGROUND IS DEDICATED AT EMMITSBURG

Emmitsburg's new $2,000 playground was formally dedicated by both the adults and the children Friday night.

The Emmitsburg VFW post presented services marking Memorial Day and dedicating the new playground.

Then Emmitsburg Mayor Thornton W. Rodgers cut the ribbon opening the play center and the children took over. Before the ribbon was cut the new play center stood vacant but seconds later every swing was in motion, the slide was crowded with kiddies, a "merry-go-round" in the center and a "jungle gym" climbing device disappeared under a sea of children and every see-saw was operating with from four to six children aboard.

The program was opened by a band selection "Gate City" by the Emmitsburg Municipal Band. Lumen F. Norris, adjutant-quartermaster of the post, followed with the introductory remarks. The flag was then raised by the color guard of the American Legion drill team while the band played the "Star Spangled Banner." The invocation was given by Rev. Philip Bower, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church. Guests of the evening were introduced by Lumen F. Norris as follows: Mayor Thornton W. Rodgers; Rev. Philip Bower; Walter E. Rightmire, commissioner and past commander of the post; Charles F. Fuss, commissioner; Harold M. Hoke, past commander of the post; Fern Oiler, present commander of the Post; T. Eugene Rodgers, present commander of the American Legion Post; Everett Chrismer, chairman of the committee for the planning and construction of the playground; Mrs. Mary Hoke, first president of the VFW Auxiliary; Mrs. Anna Stoner, second president of the auxiliary; Mrs. Wales Rightmire, third president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Rose Bond, present president of the auxiliary.

"IKE" FLYING HOME TODAY FROM EUROPE

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower flies home today to the United States where political backers are booming him for the GOP presidential nomination.

Yesterday Eisenhower turned over to General Matthew B. Ridgway the job he began more than a year ago—building up the forces of 14 nations into a defense line against possible Red aggression.

As he relinquished his North Atlantic Command in a brief ceremony on the front lawn of Supreme Headquarters outside Paris, Eisenhower told Ridgway, "It is now my proud duty to turn over to you the finest headquarters I have ever seen. The task is now yours."

Raps Isolationism
About 400 officers and their families gathered to watch the ceremony held beneath the flags of the 14 NATO nations.

In a news conference Eisenhower took a sharp rap at isolationism. "There is a grave danger in thinking of these problems of defense against Communism locally," he said. "It is a fight to be fought globally and we must not get preoccupied with our own ideas."

"It would be a very grave mistake," he said, "not to remember that events in other parts of the world are not only a drain on our own resources and military strength, but also are a part of our own ideological struggle."

missioner and past commander of the Emmitsburg VFW, in the principal talk of the evening told the audience: "It is the hope of the Veterans of Foreign Wars that this playground will help to provide part of the recreation necessary to mould good citizens for the years ahead."

"As a community and as a nation we have made mistakes in the past," Rightmire said. "The sadness of Memorial Day stands as mute testimony that there have been mistakes. But we can be sure of living right if we cling to the virtues and ideas for which a million American men have given their lives. This vast silent army of the dead reminds us that we must not break faith with the purpose and resolve for which they struggled and died."

To Be Open Daily
Master of Ceremonies Lumen Norris and others paid tribute to the Emmitsburg Fire Company for giving the ground on which the playground is located and to the Lions Club which for a number of years operated a playground for the community.

The program concluded with a retreat service by the American Legion Color Guard and benediction by Rev. Mr. Bower.

It was announced by Norris that the playground will be open under the supervision of Mrs. Wales Rightmire each day from 9 to 11 a.m. and from 2 to 5 p.m. until September 1.

Hunt Pyromaniac In Pittsburgh Blazes

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Police and firemen hunted a suspected pyromaniac today after a third mysterious fire in three months on the lower Northside.

The latest blaze struck a classroom at St. Gabriel's school yesterday. Firemen quickly put it out and estimated damage at $700.

About $60,000 damage resulted March 1 as a fire hit St. Andrew's church and a month later the Columbus Elementary School was destroyed with a loss of $60,000.
